Russell Severance Springer Professor

The Springer Professorship is an appointment held at the Department of Mechanical Engineering, University of California, Berkeley, in which a renowned professor in a field of mechanical engineering from some other institution, either domestic or international, is nominated by the mechanical engineering faculty to visit the department. This person is chosen for his/her experience, eminence and high level of expertise in his/her field.